7. Know Your Customer (KYC) Procedures

In case that the Client does not provide sufficient Verification Documents within 15 Calendar Days from the initiation of business relationship, the Company has the right to immediately terminate the business relationship and send the money back, to the same source as the money has originated from. The procedure for returning the funds will occur immediately, regardless whether the Client has requested the refund of his/her funds or not, in compliance with the Termination and Default section of the Agreement.

The Client understands and agrees that certain payment providers (i.e. Przelewy24) do not provide the Company with all the necessary information regarding the origin of funds and in such cases, in order to proceed with the refund, the Company shall request additional documents from the Client (i.e. Proof of Deposit in the form of a bank transfer confirmation, which will indicate the details of the bank account used for the initial deposit).

- 11.1 The Company is required by the applicable laws and regulations to assess Clients' knowledge and experience in trading in complex financial instruments such as CFDs in order to evaluate whether such instruments are appropriate for them.
- 11.2 As such, no deposits irrespective of amount can be accepted, unless the Client provides information for the construction of his/her economic profile and undertakes the Appropriateness Test.
- 11.3 The reason for assessing the appropriateness is to enable the Firm to act in the Client's best interest and assess whether the services and products that the Client seeks to be provided with are appropriate for him/her. In this respect, the Client is encouraged to provide accurate and sufficient information about his/her knowledge and experience related to the services and products envisaged so as the Firm can properly assess whether those services and products are appropriate for each specific Client. If the responses provided by any Client are considered as insufficient or are inconsistent or conflicting, the Company may require further clarifications as to these responses. The Client acknowledges that by providing misleading and/or false information in terms of the Appropriateness Test, the Company will not be held responsible for any excessive losses that might be caused due to the high leverage.

- 11.4 The Company reserves the right, at any time, to require additional information for the purposes of the Appropriateness Assessment.
- 11.5 Based on the evaluation of Client's knowledge and experience, the Company classifies a Retail Client either as a Highly-Experienced Retail Client, an Experienced Retail Client, a Less Experienced Retail Client, or a non-experienced Retail Client. The Client agrees and accepts that the evaluation and Client's relevant classification is entirely at the Company's discretion.

12. Leverage

- 12.1 In accordance with the requirements of EU Directive 2004/39/EC of 21 April 2004 on Markets in Financial Instruments (MiFID), revised and implemented on the 3rd January 2018 as MIFID II and the Investment Services and Activities and Regulated Markets law of the Republic of Cyprus, and pursuant also to Circular 168 issued by CySEC on 30th of November 2016, the Company has set leverage levels that reflect Client's knowledge and experience in trading in complex financial instruments like CFDs.
- 12.2 The Company ensures that the maximum loss for the Clients at any point in time shall never exceed the Client's available funds (Negative Balance Protection).
- 12.3 For Retail Clients, a lower leverage limit which cannot exceed a default level of 1:50 applies, unless the Retail Client has opted to change this default level to a different leverage ratio and only if the Company is satisfied with the Retail Client's knowledge and experience in trading complex financial instruments like CFDs. In general, the Company internally classifies Retail Clients as follows:
- a) Highly Experienced Retail Clients: Clients who have scored more than 70% in the Company's Appropriateness Test, demonstrating satisfactory knowledge and experience in trading in complex financial instruments like CFDs; Highly Experienced Retail Clients have the choice, to change the leverage ratios up to 1:500 subject to the caps that the Company may apply based on the Company's internal principles of risk appetite and tolerance. The Company reserves the right to introduce additional leverage levels.
 - b) Experienced Retail Clients: are Retail Clients who have scored more than 50% but less than 70% in the Appropriateness Test. The leverage ratio which will be offered to this category will not exceed the ratio of 1:300. These restrictions will be applied until the Client: 1) provides a proven record of experience status that he/she undertook 10 trades in three (3) consecutive months from the registration date and 2) the Client has re-taken the Appropriateness Test and she/he has scored more than 70%. If the aforementioned requirements have been met, the Client may be classified as Highly Experience Client.
 - c) Less experienced Retail Clients: are Retail Clients who have scored more than 30% but less than 50% in the Appropriateness Test. The leverage ratio which will be offered to this category will not exceed the ratio of 1:100. These restrictions will be applied until the Client: 1) provides a proven record of experience status that is considered by the Company as satisfactory, 2) the Client has re-taken the Appropriateness Test. If the aforementioned requirements have been met, the Company may classify the Client differently based on the updated information of trading knowledge and experience provided by the Client.

- d) Non-Experienced Retail Clients (failed the test): Clients who scored low marks in the Company's Appropriateness Test and their score indicate that they have no experience and/or Knowledge in trading in Complex Financial Instruments like CFDs; they acknowledge that trading on CFDs carries a high level of risk since leverage can work both to their advantage and disadvantage and may lead to loss of all of their invested capital. Moreover, in an effort to further protect these Clients, the Company is introducing restrictions on the leverage they can use for their trading with the Company. The Leverage ratio, offered by the Company will not exceed the ratio of 1:50. The Client will be able to request an increase in her/his leverage. This would happen, if the following requirements are met: 1) the Client re-takes the Appropriateness Test, and he/she will pass it; and 2) the Client provides a proven record of experience status that is considered by the Company as satisfactory. Once the above two requirements have been filled, the Company may classify the Client differently.

12.4 It should be noted that the maximum leverage ratio on the trading accounts of Polish citizens, registered with the Company cannot exceed the ratio of 1:100.

12.5 A Retail Client may request to change her/his leverage ratio through his/her secure Member Area (if applicable) and/or via e-mail (sent from the Client's registered e-mail address directly to the Company). However, the Company will proceed with this request only if it is satisfied with the Retail Client's knowledge and experience in trading in complex financial instruments like CFDs.

12.6 The Company may determine at its own discretion, the leverage applied on an asset class basis or per financial instrument offered on the Company's Website.

12.7 All information regarding the leverage, margin requirements and trading limits are available on the Company's Internet Website.

12.8 It should be noted that the Company shall monitor the leverage ratio applied to Clients' positions at all times. The Company also reserves the right to decrease the leverage ratio based on the Client's trading activity in order to prevent Company's market overexposure to high market risk due to abnormal market conditions and price fluctuations that might affect the interest of any other active Client. A notification will be sent to the Client, via any durable mean like the Online Trading Facility and/or by e-mail, notifying the Client of any change in trading conditions, including but not limited to leverage ratio.

12.9 The Company is monitoring the trading conditions including but not limited to the leverage ratio in order to prevent any abuse of its Negative Balance Guarantee Policy by any Client.

12.10 The Client accepts that the Company reserves the right, at any point in time, to cancel trades and/or cancel Clients' withdrawal request and/or make any other necessary balance adjustments in the event that the Firm determines and/or suspects, at its sole discretion,

The difference between the lower and the higher price of a given Financial Instrument is the spread.

- 19.6.2 The Client hereby agrees that the Company's prices shall be the only relevant prices for the Client's Orders and Transactions.

- 19.6.3 The Client acknowledges and agrees that the Company is under no obligation to quote any specific price which is quoted in a specific Financial Market.

- 19.6.4 Any references of the Client to prices of other trading or information systems or of other Clients shall be disregarded. The Company has the right at its sole discretion to increase or decrease spreads on Financial Instruments depending on market conditions and Client's profile. The Client acknowledges that events such as changes in the Financial Markets, news announcements, political and economic events or periods of low liquidity may result in wider spreads. The Client acknowledges and agrees that Spreads may widen at any time and without prior notice and that there is no limit to how wide Spreads may be.

19.5 Orders

- 19.5.1 The Company shall receive, execute and transmit all Orders strictly in accordance with the Trading Conditions and in compliance with its Order Execution Policy. The Company will have no responsibility for checking the accuracy or the logic of any Order.

19.5.3 Types of Orders

The Company shall provide the Client with an option to place, following order types:

- a) A Market Order which is an order that the Company makes every effort to execute at the best available price. Generally, this order will be executed immediately, however, the price at which a market order will be executed is not guaranteed, and may be executed at a worse or better price, known as negative or positive slippage. The Client may attach a stop loss and/or a take profit and/or a trailing stop when entering Market Order.
- b) A Limit or Range Order which is an order to sell a financial instrument at no less than a specific price or buy a financial instrument at no more than a specific price. The Client may attach a stop loss and/or a take profit before the order is executed. In this case the order will be executed at the price specified or better.
- c) A Pending Order or an Entry Order which is an order to be executed at a later time and a price that the Client specifies. When the price reaches the price specified by the Client, then the order becomes a market order. Negative and positive slippage applies to pending orders. The Client has the option to place the following pending or entry orders:
 - c¹) A Buy Limit Order, which is a pending or entry buy order placed below the current market price. If the market price drops to the level of the buy order that order is then triggered.
 - c²) A Buy Stop Order, which is a pending or entry buy order placed above the current market price. If the market price rises to the level of the buy order that order is then triggered.
 - c³) A Sell Limit Order, which is a pending or entry sell order placed above the current market price. If the market price rises to the level of the sell order that order is then triggered.
 - c⁴) A Sell Stop Order, which is a pending or entry sell order placed below the current market price. If the market price drops to the level of the sell order that order is then triggered.
- d) A Trailing Stop Order which is a stop loss order set in terms of points (pips) level below the market price – for a long position and above the market price – for a short position. The trailing stop price is adjusted as the price fluctuates.

19.5.4 Such orders as Buy Limit, Buy Stop and Stop Loss/ Take Profit for opened short positions are executed as ASK price. Such orders as Sell Limit, Sell Stop and Stop Loss/Take Profit for opened long position are executed at BID price. All orders once triggered are executed as Market Orders at the best available price.

19.6 Size of Order

The size of an Order is expressed in lots. The minimum and the maximum order size may depend on the account type and/or asset class and/or particular financial instrument. The Company reserves the right to alter the minimum and/or maximum order size at any given time. A detailed information regarding available order sizes can be found on the Company's Internet Website.

19.7 Costs

The Client is charged a spread (liquidity quoted prices plus a mark-up) and may be requiring paying swaps (overnight interest rate) or commission, if applicable, in some financial instruments depending on the account type. Commissions and Swaps are not incorporated in to the Company's quoted prices, but charged separately. A detailed information regarding costs is provided in the Costs, Fees and Charges section of the Agreement.

Upon closing a Transaction, and subject to any applicable adjustments for interest and dividends in accordance with this Agreement:

- A) The Company will pay the Client the difference between the price in which the Transaction was opened and the price in which the Transaction was closed, multiplied by the number of units of the Underlying Instrument that comprise the Transaction if the Transaction is:
- a long Transaction and the Transaction's closing price is higher than its opening price; or
 - a short Transaction and the Transaction's closing price is lower than its opening price; and
- B) The Client will pay the Company the difference between the price in which the Transaction was opened and the price in which the Transaction was closed, multiplied by the number of units of the Underlying Instrument that comprise the Transaction if the Transaction is:
- a long Transaction and the Transaction's closing price is lower than its opening price; or
 - a short Transaction and the Transaction's closing price is higher than its opening price.

19.9 Rollovers and Expiration Dates

- 19.9.1 For certain CFDs, an expiry date may apply (Expiry Transaction). The Client acknowledges and agrees that the Company will have the right to close any Transaction and remove any pending orders, in its sole and absolute discretion without notice, if the Reference Instrument is a derivative financial instrument which may settle on expiry by a delivery other than in Cash (Spot), at a reasonable period prior to the expiry date (the details of these dates are available at the Company's website), as determined in the sole and absolute discretion of the Company (Usually on the expiry date). The Company will not be subject to any obligation to rollover any position which is subject to settlement on expiry. The price of an expiry transaction will be based on the current available market price, at the time the transaction is executed.

19.9.2 The Client acknowledges that it is the Client's responsibility to make himself/herself aware in regard to CFDs expiry dates. Information regarding the expiry dates of CFDs is available on the Company's Website.

19.10 Dividends

In the event of a distribution of cash dividends in relation to a share CFD, a dividend adjustment will be made to the Client's Balance with respect to the underlying share's Positions held by the Client at the end of business day which precedes the ex-dividend date. The dividend adjustment shall be calculated by the Company, based on the size of the dividend, the size of the Client's position, taxation (if applicable) and whether it is a buy or a sell Transaction, whereby in long Positions the adjustment shall be credited to the Client's Balance and in short positions the adjustment shall be debited from the Client's Balance. Dividends shall be credited or debited from the Client's Balance outside the underlying share's trading hours and before the opening of the share's next trading day, and are contingent upon the Client holding his/her respective Position at the time of the dividend adjustment. During this period, in order to keep the fair value of the Client's Equity until the opening of the next trading day, the Company shall adjust the Client's Position in accordance with the dividend amount debited or credited from the Client's Balance.

19.11 Margin Call

A Margin Call occurs when the Account's equity is about to drop below the margin requirement needed to maintain open Transaction(s). The equity-to-margin ratio level triggering Margin Call, is provided on the Company's Internet Website. The Company reserves the right to change the Margin Call level at any time and at its own discretion. The continuous drop of the equity-to-margin ratio after triggering Margin Call may lead to a Stop-out.

19.12 Stop-out

A Stop-out occurs when the account's equity drops below the margin requirement needed to maintain open Transaction(s). The equity-to-margin ratio level triggering Stop-out, is provided on the Company's Internet Website. The Company reserves the right to change the Stop-out level at any time and at its own discretion.

Once the Stop-out is triggered on the Client's Account, the MT4 will automatically start closing open positions, starting from those, which bring the most significant losses. The system will continue to systematically close transactions until the increase of the equity-to-margin ratio reaches the required level.

The Client should note that a Stop-out may occur even if the Account is fully hedged. When an account is fully hedged, no margin requirement is needed, however the equity is affected by the floating PnL. If the spread widens, the floating PnL will increase. In this case, if floating PnL is greater than the equity, the account will get stopped out.

19.13 Negative Balance Protection

It is the Company's policy that the Client's Equity in the Account will never fall below zero. In the event that a Position is closed at such price causing the Equity to fall below zero, the Company shall waive its right to receive the balance from the Client.

19.14 Slippage

Due to fast moving markets, all type of Orders as disclosed in the General Trading Conditions section of the Agreement will be executed at prices worse or better due to Negative or Positive Slippage, although the Company will take all reasonable steps to provide Clients the best available price.

It is important to note that Slippage does not affect the Negative Balance Protection and therefore the Client will never lose more than the amount invested (including any profit, if gained), even if a slippage occurs. In addition, transactions in some currencies (e.g. RUB) or other instruments (e.g. shares, indices) which are not traded on a 24 hours basis, may experience a Market Gap on a daily basis and are therefore are more susceptible to slippage.

19.15 Market Gap

The Client understands that a Market Gap may occur due to abnormal market conditions and/or as a result of the price difference between the closing and the opening price.

In case of a Market Gap, the Company shall execute all pending limit or stop orders at the first available market price for the corresponding position size.

19.16 Shares CFD – Expiration

CFDs whose Underlying Assets are Shares are traded in conjunction with the times in which the underlying share is traded. Without derogating the provisions of the Agreement, Share CFD Transactions may be terminated by the Company upon the occurrence of such events as: Corporate Actions, Suspension, Trading Termination, Insolvency. In such event, the settlement price shall be the last traded price at or prior to the time of termination.

19.16.1 Corporate Actions

- i) If a corporate action materializes, the Client accepts that the Company reserves the right to make appropriate adjustments to the value and/or size of a transaction and/or number of any related transactions; any such adjustment aims in preserving the economic equivalent of the rights and obligations of both the Client and the Firm immediately prior to a corporate action. It should be noted that these adjustments are conclusive and binding upon the Client; the Client will be informed accordingly by the Company as soon as reasonably practicable.

21.12.1 In the event of a chargeback placed by you with your credit card Company (done intentionally or by mistake) for any deposit made by you in your Company’s account, we reserve the right to block your account and then a thorough investigation will be carried out on behalf of the Company to determine the legitimacy of the chargeback. The blocked amount will only be released if the chargeback is found to be valid.

21.12.2 We do not tolerate credit card fraud, and all fraud, without exception, will be prosecuted through criminal proceedings in your local jurisdiction to the fullest extent of the law. In addition, we will pursue civil legal action in your local jurisdiction seeking any loss of income related to the fraud, including business, legal fees, research costs, employee down time and loss of revenues.

21.12.3 We employ advanced risk modelling to detect fraudulent transaction clues across our Services. Fraudulent transactions are immediately cancelled after being detected. Any active Orders associated with the same fraudulent credit card will also be cancelled immediately. We also actively leverage external, cross-industry resources --such as worldwide fraud blacklists --to prevent fraudulent users from accessing our Online Trading Facility in the first place.

21.12.4 We consider credit card charge backs to be fraudulent if you make no reasonable effort to work with us to resolve any problems with your deposit. All frivolous chargebacks not only cost our employees time away from our usual and customary matters of conducting normal business, but also cost us money, therefore:

A) If we determine that a deposit is high-risk or does not comply with our Compliance and risk Policies, the deposit will immediately be cancelled and the funds will immediately be refunded to the credit card from which the deposit was initially made. Furthermore, in such instances, we reserve the right, at our sole discretion, to close any and all of your Account(s) with us immediately. Any active Orders associated with the same fraudulent credit card and/or Account will also be cancelled immediately.

B) You agree that if you choose to do business with us and you file a chargeback with your credit card company, we initially follow an investigation to determine the legitimacy of your chargeback and in the event that you win the charge back argument, we will unblock the said amount the soonest possible. In the event that you do not win the charge back argument, you agree to charge the blocked amount of USD150 to your credit card, which will represent the “research and administrative processing fee” for our time responding to the matter. You hereby authorize us to charge this amount to your credit card. If this charge is rejected, we will pursue legal action to recoup losses for our time associated with responding to the charge back in addition to any other fees explained above. You agree to reimburse us or any Representative we may appoint for any legal expenses your actions may make us incur.

- c) Furthermore, in such instances, we reserve the right, at our sole discretion, to take all action as we see fit, including, without limitation, completely blocking access to our Online Trading Facility, blocking and/or revoking your Access Codes and/or terminating your Account. Under these circumstances, we reserve the right to seize any profits and/or revenues generated directly or indirectly by exercising any such prohibited trading activity and we shall be entitled to inform any Interested third parties of your breach of this clause; any active Orders associated with the same fraudulent credit card and/or Account will also be cancelled immediately; we have, and will continue to develop any tools necessary to identify credit/debit card fraud; any dispute arising from such fraudulent activity will be resolved by us in our sole and absolute discretion, in the manner we deem to be the fairest to all concerned; that decision shall be final and/or binding on all participants; no correspondence will be entered into.
